On Sunday afternoon 32 of the Lake McGregor Gymkhana Club, along with the co-operation of the weatherman, dug out all available sleighs, toboggans and skiing equipment and met at the coulee hills south of Pete Silbernagel's for a sleigh-riding party. After a hilarious afternoon of thrills and spills galore, all gathered around a huge bonfire to enjoy a feast of tasty hamburgers, very ably cooked by the menfolk over an open barbeque, along with hot chocolate and coffee.

Floyd Armstrong and Artie Nelson were on hand with their movie cameras to take pictures to be shown at a future date. Around sundown all headed for home to bathe their aching muscles with liniment and hot baths, looking forward to another happy occasion such as this before the winter is over.

Prizes Given In Campaign For Members

Trips to Ottawa, paid for by the UFA Co-op, are the prizes for the winners in the 1963 Farmers Union of Alberta membership drive. The top canvassers in two sub-districts of each of the 14 FUA Districts in the province will be entitled to make the trip.

The Milo-Queenstown local of Sub-district 5 has been declared a winner in the membership drive. John Bushell is secretary and Bob Scott president of this local. FUA Sub-director is Mrs. John Papp and FUA Sub-director is Stewart Douglass. Milo-Queenstown reached a membership of 117 in the drive. Arrowwood local reached a total of 115 members, but failed to send the report in early enough.

The other winning Sub-district, No. 2, has Mrs. Inga Marr as FUA Sub-director and Henry McGlynn as FUA Sub-director. Two of the locals in the sub-district have high points and the winning local has not yet been decided.

Band Ass'n Names Officers

The first annual meeting of the Vulcan County Band Association was held Monday, Jan. 27, in the Vulcan Elementary School auditorium.

A report of the band operation was given from the time the organization was formed last July, to the present date. The report showed that both the junior and senior bands are now operating on a sound basis and are making satisfactory progress.

The financial statement of the association was presented. It showed that the community has given splendid financial support, both from individuals and organizations.

As there is such an urgent need for instruments when a band is being formed, all receipts are quickly earmarked for that purpose, and so far the band balance has never had a chance to increase very much.

Officers for the forthcoming year were elected as follows: President, Lloyd Jones; vice-president Harry Washburn; secretary, Marcella Steiner; treasurer, Dave Schierman.

A board of directors was named as follows: Peter Pickersgill, Joe Gerding, Skeez Christensen, Jack Thurber and Rev. L. Hale.

Instruction Course Offered At Champion

A teacher training course on the Old Testament books of law and history is being offered at the Champion Evangelical Free Church on Sunday mornings at 11 o'clock. Enrollments in this three-month course are still being accepted. The classes comprise a certificate course, inter-denominational in character, sponsored by the Evangelical Teacher Training Association, Wheaton, Illinois. This organization gives credit toward teachers' certificates and diplomas in Christian education, used in many churches and Bible schools throughout United States and Canada.

The courses being offered by the church in Champion is the first in the Bible survey unit. It has been especially prepared for the training of Sunday school teachers and all church workers.

Adults and young people are in separate classes taught by Rev. E. Losey and Mrs. Losey, who received their training at the Western Baptist Theological Seminary in Portland, Oregon.

In encouraging people to study the Bible, the Loseys comment, "The most practical way to secure an adequate knowledge of the Bible is to read and study it thoroughly, book by book. Often we dabble here and there, but fail to get an understanding of the Bible as a whole."

The first newspaper advertisement, in our modern sense of the word, appeared in 1647.

assignments, review assignments, long-term assignments, reading assignments and general assignments.

She stated that homework was very essential and parent's influence along this line was most important. However her view was that weekends should be free of any homework.

Monica Ulrich as a Grade 12 student said that homework should start at a Grade 4 or 5 level to establish good studying habits. She agreed a quiet place was needed for the pupil to do his homework. She thought homework taught the child reliability and independence. Monica stated sports and social affairs were important too.

Mrs. Munton gave her very interesting views on the subject as a parent. She agreed homework was necessary, as it taught children to study on their own without the teacher's supervision. She thought children differed in their ways of studying, some required a quiet atmosphere, while others seemed to do as well with a transistor on full blast.

Dennis Burton, a Grade 9 student gave a truthful and humorous viewpoint. He agreed that homework helped a student, especially if he had to look up certain things himself. He also said homework was interesting in the subjects he liked, but was a little boring in the subjects he disliked. He agreed TV does interfere with assignments.

Mrs. Racille Ellis acted as moderator for the panel. Questions from the audience provoked a lively discussion on the subject. Lunch was served by Mrs. Doris and Mrs. June Rhodes.

A sincere thank-you was extended to Mrs. Johnnie Gray for donating the Christmas tree to the church. The visitors were welcomed by the president. Correspondence consisted of some thank-you notes and a letter from Calgary regarding an increase in salary for the minister.

The treasurer's report was given followed by suggestions of ways and means to raise money. It was decided to hold a bake sale on Feb. 1. A pot-luck supper was also discussed and a tentative date set for April, the exact date to be set at the next meeting.

Rev. Cowell gave an interesting devotional reading and closed the meeting with a prayer. Hostess for the next meeting will be Mrs. Johnnie Gray. The meeting will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 11, on lunch are Mrs. Fred Maronda, Mrs. Rupert, Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Fraser.

Excuse For Inaction?

(By C. J. Harris)

At least on paper, the federal government is very much in favor of helping small business and also very much in favor of helping Canadians retain ownership of Canadian firms. But the government partly showed little evidence of real concern for these aims when a private member's motion to allow five-year installment payments of death duties, rather than full payment within six months as the law now requires, was brought before Parliament recently. Government spokesmen refused to entertain the idea.

It was argued by Alfred Hales (PC, Wellington South) that the estate tax yields only 1½ per cent of the government's income, but has a very harmful effect on the economy. The present law, he charged, often forces the quick sale to foreign investors of small family firms that lack the cash reserves to meet the tax. His proposal, he added, was endorsed by the Canadian Bar Association and the National Council of Women.

E. J. Benson, parliamentary secretary to the Finance Minister, countered that the government's Industrial Development Bank could make loans to help companies meet the tax and that, in any event, the federal government could not change the law without consulting the provinces. One opposition member acidly remarked that negotiating a loan with the Industrial Development Bank might take from one to two years.

It may be that estate taxes could be changed only after federal-provincial consultation, but the government should not use this as an excuse for inaction. Both levels of government agreed at the recent Ottawa conference that they were anxious to consult, closely and frequently, in areas where shared authority affected matters of pressing public concern. On the record of submissions to the Royal Commission on Taxation it would certainly appear that estate taxes are a subject of vital concern both to business firms and to individuals.

Several of the briefs to the commission have urged that, in keeping with present-day realities, the basic tax exemption on all estates should be raised from $60,000 to $100,000, that the law should permit installment payments, and that the peak rate should be lowered from 54 per cent to 30 per cent. Other briefs have urged that a widow should be granted tax exemption on half of her husband's estate, that normal household furnishings should be considered the property of the widow and, most important, that pensions and annuities should not be taxed at their capitalized value since this subjects a widow to double taxation.

Tax-hungry politicians may prefer to think otherwise, but it is apparent that many Canadians feel these are matters of vital, immediate concern.

ARROWWOOD

The Arrowwood Home and School held their regular meeting on Tuesday night. The routine business was dealt with and plans were made to enter to the Home School conference to be held in Arrowwood on Feb. 29. A film was shown "City of Gold". Mrs. Gene Burriss and Mrs. Jim Brown served lunch.

Mrs. Irene Dunn, Mrs. Phyllis Williams, Mrs. Gordie House and Mrs. Myrtle Williams attended the County Council Home and School meeting in Vulcan on Wednesday. Miss Susan Hayes attended the United Church Hi-C Conference at Banff over the weekend.

The FWUA would like members to note that the regular meeting set for Feb. 5, has been changed to Friday, Feb. 7, for this month only because several people were going to be away to the Stock Growers Convention.

The United Church Women met on Thursday at the church. Members turned in all old greeting cards and used stamps for missionary work. Regular reports were dealt with and money voted to Mount Royal College and St. Stephens College. Future meetings will be held on the fourth Wednesday of every month and the next meeting will be at Mrs. Frank Wyatts. Program was an interesting film on the origin of Women's World Day of Prayer. Lunch was served by Mrs. Cliff Curtis and Mrs. Sam Zahursky.

Leigh Williams and Bob Seeley attended the 4-H leaders conference in Fort Macleod on Friday. Mrs. Barbara DeWitt spent several days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dick Newman.

MOSSLEIGH

On Jan. 18, a party honoring Ed Hanson of High River, on his 83rd birthday, was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hurl, Mrs. Thelma Beacom, Robert Anton, Mrs. Beulah Gateman and Victor, all from this district. Approximately 80 people sat down to a delicious turkey supper which was followed by an Old-time dance with music by Frank and Jack Thurber and Lionel Hanson.

HIGH SCHOOL HI-LITES

The County Central MacDive League is preparing for the Invitational Basketball Tournament scheduled for Feb. 8. A cheer-leading competition will be held. The Iowa Ghosts are scheduled to play our senior basketball team on Feb. 3, at County Central High School.

The following three plays will be presented by the Drama Club at Arrowwood on Jan. 31: "Merchant of Venice," "Secret Weapon," and "Irene Comes Harriet."

The Students' Union Executive is a very busy group of youngsters. They have several problems to solve. Among these are:

1. Types and colors for school sweaters and jackets, so they can, not only for this year, but many future years, show that those wearing the same are former students and present students of County Central High.

2. Yearbook, cover design, advertising in it and cost of the same all make problems for the young executive.

3. The Constitution for the student body needs revision, and again, this creates a pressing problem to say the right things in the right way.

4. School dances, sports of all kinds, general group activities, all pose difficult problems. In regard to all school dances we have a few rules that everyone must follow. It may be wise to publish these at this time:

a) No one except parents and staff and bona-fide students are allowed without regular invitations.

b) All invited guests must bring their invitations and turn them in at the door.

c) Regular monthly parties shall be "sock hops."

d) No one shall open, go in or out the east side exit of the auditorium except in cases of emergency.

e) All students and guests shall remain in the building and may not move in or out at will.

f) No smoking by any student in the building. Adults or parents may smoke in the staff room, or rotunda if permission is granted.

g) Any person behaving in an unmannerly way shall be sent off the premises.

The above are only a few of the rules, but are the basic ones that must be adhered to.

School Science—The students' world of science covers general science, chemistry, physics and biology. General science surveys meteorology, geology, general chemistry and electricity. Chemistry includes studies in organic and inorganic chemistry. Physics courses deal mainly with hydrostatics, mechanics, electricity, light, heat and sound. Biology includes studies in the fields of botany, zoology, physiology and biochemistry. The World of Science is changing, and high school science courses are also in a state of change. Emphasis is changing from the rote memory of descriptive science to the building of basic concepts and principles; changing from teacher demonstrations to more pupil controlled experiments — some of the research type.

Other useful techniques involve the use of models, samples and specimens, microscopes, and numerous other types of equipment. Use is made of various teaching aids such as film strips, motion pictures, charts and graphs.

With the opening of the new addition to the school, students may look forward to better opportunities to do more experimental work, as well as benefitting from the use of added equipment and room facilities. Science Clubs and special projects are planned for interested and capable students as soon as facilities are available.

In last week's news it was erroneously reported that the Students' Union donated fifty dollars to the County Band Association. This should have read — The Glee Club donated fifty dollars to the County Band Association.

Bargains! Bargains! Bargains!

January is traditionally the month for linen or "White Sales" and also for clearance sales prior to stock taking.

Clearance Sales—Now is a good time to buy winter clothing at reduced prices. However, be sure this is a regular clearance sale — characterized by broken color lines and sizes and one-of-a-kind buys. Beware of special purchases sales where there is usually a complete range of both size and color. Although the prices are lower, as a general rule so is the quality.

White Sales—When buying sheets, don't be rushed. Check for quality before making your purchase. The rule of thumb—the higher the thread count, the better, and stronger the sheet. A count of 128 is considered the minimum.

Feel the sheet and rub a corner between your fingers. If a white powder rubs out, this indicates an overdose of sizing to increase the body and weight of poor quality sheets. This washes out and leaves a limp sheet.

Hold the sheet up to the light and make sure of an even weave with no knots. Look also for details of quality — finely woven tape selvages ensure long wear; straight, firmly stitched hems.

Check the label. It may state whether or not the sheet has been pre-shrunk. Since they can shrink up to 5% in length, this will have a bearing on the length you buy. Labels on colored sheets should state whether they are colorfast.

Buy the correct size. This is especially important when you buy fitted sheets. There are six widths in beds now, so know the sizes you require when you go shopping. Sheets made in Canada are labeled with the size after hemming. Those in the United States are labeled with the size before hemming.

Towels—Check the underweave of a towel — near the hem or in a border where there are no loops. It should be firm and close. Close thick loops give greater absorbency. Note the selvages. If the edge is not hemmed it should be closely woven. Consider the size of the towel that you use. Why wash larger towels that have only been used at each end? A smaller towel may suit your needs. Remember a more expensive towel may not indicate higher quality. Fancy weaves and patterns will increase the price.

Be an informed shopper. Know what you want and insist on quality. Be sure the bargain you find is a true saving.

New Publication—The newest edition of the "Stan-

4-H Club Notes

Arrowwood 4-H Club—

On January 6, the Arrowwood 4-H meeting was held at the home of Bob Seeley. Reports were given by Jack Williams and Ralph Seeley on the 4-H camp they went to at Olds Alberta. After the meeting Donna Williams told about the camp she went to and gave the members questions to answer. Lunch was then served by Jim Seeley, Buddy Cockwill and Donna Williams. The members then opened their Christmas presents.

Mossleigh-Herrington

4-H Clothing Club—

The 4-H meeting of the Mossleigh-Herrington Clothing Club was held at Mrs. D. Johnston's on Jan. 8. The meeting started with Val Johnston leading the pledge. Annie Koster read the minutes of the previous meeting with Joyce Hagedorn in the chair.

The meeting ended with Jackie Keim giving a demonstration. Val Johnston, the hostess, served a very delightful lunch. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gingras on Jan. 28.

"Standards For Judging" booklet has just arrived. This contains the points and basis for judging in all food, clothing and handicraft sections of fairs and conventions. It is available free of charge from this office.

Regular Meeting Good Deeds W.I.

The Good Deeds Women's Institute held their first meeting of the new year at the home of Mrs. Alan Wylie. There were ten members present answering the roll call with old Christmas cards to be sent to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Calgary.

Mrs. Pat Dingwall, president, opened the business meeting. Much correspondence had accumulated over the holiday including several Christmas cards and thank-you notes from Mr. and Mrs. Reid from Wainwright, fire victims the Good Deeds group had assisted, the Canadian Cancer Society, and Mrs. Robina Hutton for flowers sent recently; also a letter from Mrs. Little, Constituency convener, concerning the district conference to be held in Lethbridge this month. Mrs. Pat Dingwall was elected delegate.

Mrs. Eileen Wylie and Mrs. Louise Sandberg are to audit the books before the next meeting. Mrs. Louise Sandberg volunteered to continue compiling the weekly Vulcan West news.

The meeting was adjourned by Mrs. Jean Whitehead after which the members busily prepared a program for the year.

To conclude another successful, pleasant meeting of the Good Deeds the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Louise Sandberg and Mrs. Lena Brown served a delicious lunch of sandwiches, fruit cake and cookies.

Barbara Ward, daughter of Jack Ward of Arrowwood, drew the lucky ticket at the Gymkhana dance Friday, Jan. 17, which gave George Roberts the right to sit in the Eamor made saddle which was raffled as door prize.

No stranger to horses and saddles, Mr. Roberts toured the rodeo circuit during the "dirty thirties" and remarked, "I took second place once, almost enough to win a saddle, but it's nice to finally win one... much simpler method too."

Behind him is Roy King, one of the founders of the Arrowwood Gymkhana and a strong competitor in horse events.

Governor William McNeil, and Mrs. McNeil of Bearsaw, Alta. Other guests were Deputy Governor Derek Martin of Lethbridge and Zone Chairman Stu Meadows of Mossleigh.

A presentation of a hand-made tray was presented to the district governor and his wife on behalf of the Lions Club by President Ron Toutant to show their appreciation. Members of visiting clubs present were from Bearsaw, Lethbridge, Champion, Vulcan, Milo, Lomond and Mossleigh.

A sing-song and a fashion show were included in the program and a dance followed to conclude the evening.

LOMOND

SHOWER

On Dec. 12, a shower was held in the Lomond Community Centre honoring Bill and Gloria Chambers. The shower was sponsored by three women's clubs, namely, the Birthday Club, the Community Club and the Goodwill Club, whose members as well as other friends attended.

The gift table was prettily decorated with a dainty umbrella under which posed a miniature (pictured) nurse, and an airplane, indicating the nature of the occupations of the young couple.

Mrs. Isabelle Volesky, a member of the Birthday Club presented the gifts to the bride who was assisted in displaying them by Mrs.

J. W. Chambers, Mrs. Mildred Honess and Mrs. Arline Thompson. Mrs. Vera Stokes took charge of the guest book. After the gifts were unwrapped the bride thanked the ladies present and a delicious lunch was served.

BETHANY L.C.W.

The January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Earline Linstedt with 15 members answering the roll call with cookies for the Lutheran Students' Foundation in Calgary. There were also two visitors present. Pastor Berg led the devotions with the Bible study entitled, "Empowered by the Spirit" and "Waiting for Power," taken from Acts 1:1-7.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read. The sick committee reported that five "get well" cards had been sent to members of the congregation and LCW who had been ill or in hospital during the past two months. The lunch convener reported that the LCW was still short several hundred Nabob coupons for a new coffee maker and would appreciate coupons from anyone who have some to spare.

It was decided to order a number of folding tables for the dining room in the church basement. The members also decided to cater to a February wedding and to a Lutheran Conference to be held here in May. Catering to the Lions Club meetings will also be carried on during the year.

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of the hymn, "My Jesus I Love Thee" followed by the "Table Grace." A very lovely lunch was then served by the hostess and her assistants.

Following the lunch the sewing committee displayed a number of remnants to be made into articles

Iowa Ghosts To Play Here Monday, Feb. 3rd

The touring Negro laughmakers, the Iowa Ghosts, are travelling again this season to entertain the fans with their skill in basketball and will meet the County Central High School Royals in an exhibition game at the high school auditorium, Monday, Feb. 3, at 7:00 p.m. The Ghosts, while not as famous as their counterpart, the Harlem Globe Trotters, are a talented brand of fun-makers who can turn on the steam or tickle the fancy of the most staid fan, all with-in minutes, with their dribble, passing and shooting.

The Ghosts are billed as a basketball circus, America's greatest sports show. The Ghosts are a barnstorming outfit with a carload of tricks.

A talent-plus-comedy routine equivalent to that of the famed Harlem Globe Trotters. The Ghosts put a few fancy added wrinkles into ball play.

The Ghosts are capable of beating most opposition with straight ball. They add unorthodox ball handling, contortion and wisecracks to entertain the fans.

In the most hilarious thing since Abbott and Costello, the Ghosts will keep the crowd in an uproar throughout the game with their remarks and comical but professional-like plays. Remember, the Ghosts are a talented band of dribble and pass — happy shot-makers who can handle the ball like a monkey handles a coconut.

The Ghosts have defeated some of the greatest teams in basketball throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The Fabulous Iowa Ghosts formed nucleus out of Sioux City, Iowa, back in the early 30's. You can be sure of this: They will put on a show of dribbling, passing and shooting that you will always remember.

TINY GLAND CAN MAKE YOU GIANT

The pituitary gland is about the size of an ordinary pea, in man, says the Encyclopedia Americana. It has two lobes. When the forward lobe is over-active, the whole body is built up to huge proportions. This is known as gigantism. Pituitary extract is useful in relieving the pangs of childbirth and diabetes.
